DIONE

Digitalising Mobility and International Networks with Open Education

- ▶ Duration: March 2021- February 2023
- ▶ Coordinator: Philipp Wasserscheidt (HU Berlin)
- ▶ Partners: Humboldt University of Berlin, Belgrade University, University of Granada, University of Wolverhampton, University of Oslo, UCLouvain, NGO „Teach me/Nauči me”
- ▶ Team UCLouvain: Kristel Van Goethem, Ferran Suñer Munoz, Manon Hermann

Motivation

► Empowerment of teachers

- independent of university, faculty, department initiatives
- flexible, adaptable, autonomous (partners, size, topic, time)
- (unlike joint degrees)

► Democratization of internationalization

- massive, cost-free, approachable
- (unlike joint degrees, summer schools, physical mobilities)

► Student-centered

- activity-based, participative, international socializing in focus
- (unlike guest lectures)

Our solution: teaching kits & micro-collaboration

- ▶ Development of a new format for teaching collaboration:
 - Open course kits for international micro-collaboration
 - Short-term, flexible, administratively simple
 - Focus on
 - humanities (linguistics, literature, language learning)
 - digitalisation (digital teaching and collaborational skills, digital research methods, critical digital literacy)
 - students' collaboration

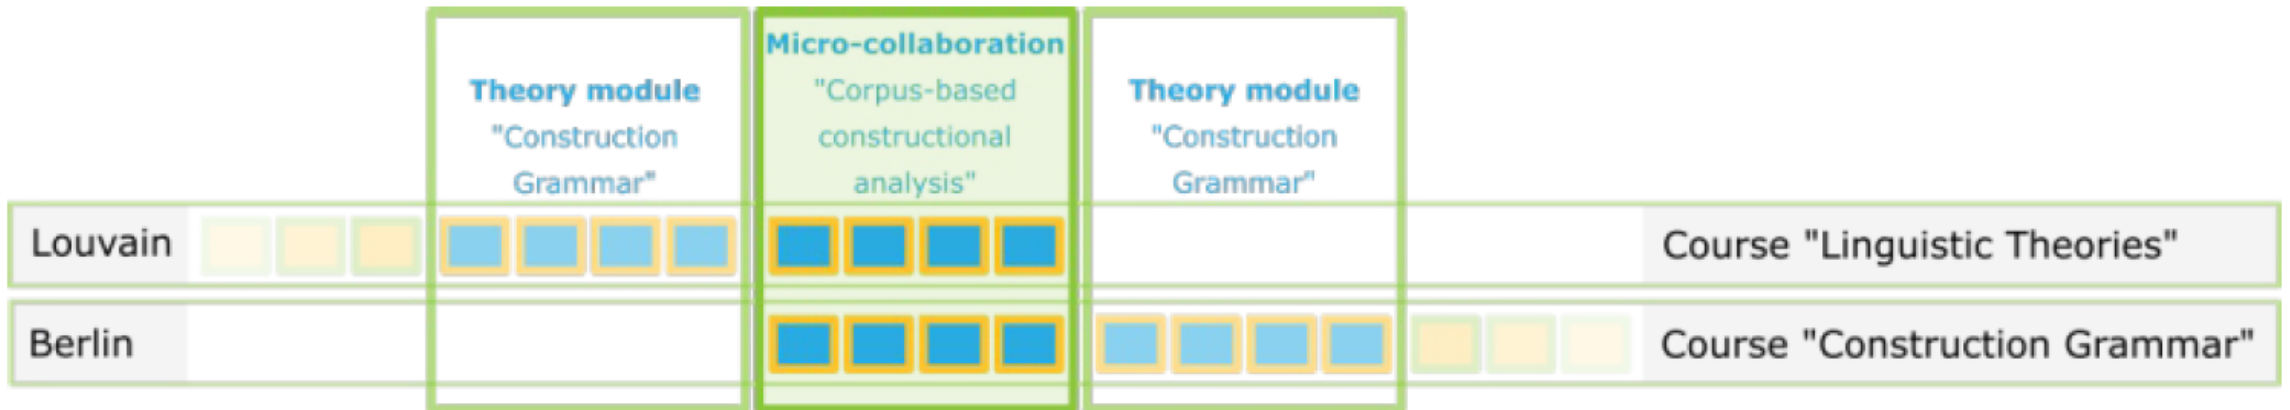

Open education

- ▶ Adaptable: Open licences, multiple formats, raw data
- ▶ Available: Open platform, feed into other databases
- ▶ Multi-lateral: Addressing both students and teachers
- ▶ Multilingual: At least 3 languages
- ▶ Transparent: Integration into competence frameworks

Micro-collaborations

- ▶ Short-term (4-7 weeks) virtual collaboration in courses between 2 or more partner universities
- ▶ Ready-made layout (Socializing - Input – Task-based learning project – Evaluation)
- ▶ Example of micro-collaboration between HU Berlin and UCLouvain:
