

Volume 8 – 2025 – Journal of Corpora and Discourse studies

Keywords in sociopolitical debates: confronting different approaches to struggles about meaning in discourse

Special issue, guest edited by Barbara De Cock, Philippe Hambye, Coline Rondiat, Nadezda Shchinova

Entirely available at <https://jcad.s.cardiffuniversitypress.org/10/volume/8/issue/0>

TOC copied below

JOURNAL OF CORPORA AND DISCOURSE STUDIES		Start Submission
Volume 8 - 2025
Keywords in sociopolitical debates: confronting different approaches to struggles about meaning in discourse
Special issue, guest edited by Barbara De Cock, Philippe Hambye, Coline Rondiat, Nadezda Shchinova
Introduction
Studying keywords in discourse: contrasting different theories and methods	May 21, 2025	1-20
Philippe Hambye, Barbara De Cock, Coline Rondiat
Articles
The Zapatista Semantic Struggle: Analysing the Linguistic Innovation of the EZLN with Semantic Difference Keywords (SDKs)	May 21, 2025	21-44
Jaelle Grillemer
Polarisation: the new 'superword': Meanings and current uses in English and Spanish	May 21, 2025	45-70
Al Chelovek Piro, Mariana Romano
A corpus-assisted analysis of the term populism in French and Spanish media discourses	May 21, 2025	71-82
Nadezda Shchinova
Debating discrimination: Transphobic and transféindlich in English and German news and Twitter discourse	May 21, 2025	83-122
Berit Johannesen
Political correctness gone woke in polarised society: The emergence of a new keyword in an old 'culture war' discourse	May 21, 2025	123-158
Malene Schreier
Constructing the meaning of cultural keywords through argumentation: the case of 'sustainable' in fashion	May 21, 2025	159-184
Chiara Mancini
'Following the science': Science as a sociopolitical keyword during the pandemic	May 21, 2025	185-216
Coline Rondiat
Meta-discursive Formulas A Subtype of Keywords and Its Pragmatic Effects: The Case of 'Fake News' in the Francophone Press	May 21, 2025	217-240
Ellen Schögers		