

Format: AbstractFull text links

Kidney Int. 2018 Apr;93(4):1015-1016. doi: 10.1016/j.kint.2018.01.018.

Taurolidine-based lock solutions for hemodialysis catheters: the enthusiasm should be tempered.

Labriola L¹, Jadoul M².

Author information

- 1 Department of Nephrology, Cliniques universitaires Saint-Luc, Université catholique de Louvain, Brussels, Belgium. Electronic address: laura.labriola@uclouvain.be.
- 2 Department of Nephrology, Cliniques universitaires Saint-Luc, Université catholique de Louvain, Brussels, Belgium.

Comment in

The Authors Reply. [Kidney Int. 2018]

Comment on

Taurolidine-based catheter lock regimen significantly reduces overall costs, infection, and dysfunction rates of tunneled hemodialysis catheters. [Kidney Int. 2018]

PMID: 29571437 DOI: 10.1016/j.kint.2018.01.018

[Indexed for MEDLINE]

Publication types, MeSH terms, Substances☐

LinkOut - more resources☐